DESponding Hours.

Once more that darkening shade is stealing round me,

And my heart sinks beneath the weight of care;

Oh! life in hours like these, is but a burden,

All too heavy for my soul to bear;

Backward I look to hours of bitter anguish,

Forward to days of weariness and pain;

And wonder that my life should be so lengthened,

When even spring time has been spent in vain.

I would not shrink from suffering and sorrow,

I would not murmur at earth's broken ties;

Yet oft, in hours of sad and silent musing,

Unbidden tears will dim my aching eyes:

Sad memories of the past come thronging round me,

A veil of mystery the future shrouds,

And hope's faint smile is like the struggling sunbeam

That glimmers feebly through the gathering clouds.

Why is it so? The light of home is darkened,

One whom I loved as I may love no more,

Sleeps in the silent grave;—her place is vacant—

Darkly death's shade hath passed my spirit o'er.

Oh! I have striven long to hide the sorrow,

That deep enshrined within my heart I kept.

Have sailed through many a weary day of anguish,

And through the still night's sleepless watches wept.

And friends have spoken still of hope and gladness,

Of health returning, and bright days to come;

Oh know they not that when the heart is broken,

Life's chords must all be severed, one by one?

I know it well;—my heart, in its deep sadness

Has turned from all that it was wont to love,

And thrilled but to one hope—that of re-union

With the departed, in her home above.

That hope, like a bright star, has cheered me onward,

Shedding its soft light on my hours of gloom;

That hope, that blessed hope, is growing brighter,

As I draw near the portals of the tomb.

Still may its hallowed radiance fall upon me

Brightly as now, till the dark vale is passed:

Till earthly cares and sufferings are ended,

And hope becomes reality at last.

THE NEIGHBOR IN LAW.

BY L. MARIA CHILD.

Continued.

"I am really sorry he behaved so," replied Mrs. Fairweather mildly. "Poor Tab!"

"Poor Tab!" screamed Miss Turnpen-

ny. "What do you mean by calling her poor?"

Do you mean to fling it up to me that my cat don't have enough to eat?"

"I did not think of such a thing," replied Mrs. Fairweather.

"I called her poor Tab, because Pink plagues her so that she has no peace of her life."

"I agree with you, neighbor Turnpenny; it is not right to keep a dog that disturbs the neighborhood."

"I am attached to poor little Pink, because he belongs to my son, who has gone to sea."

"I was in hopes he would soon leave off quarrelling with the cat; but if he won't be neighborly, I will send him out in the country to board."

Sally, will you bring me one of the pies we baked this morning? I should like to have Miss Turnpenny taste of them."

The crabbed neighbor was helped abundantly, and while she was eating the pie, the friendly matron edged in many a kind word concerning little Peggy, whom she praised as a remarkably capable, industrious child.

"I am glad you find her so," rejoined Aunt Hetty; "I should get precious little work out of her if I did not keep the switch in sight."

"I manage children pretty much as the man did the donkey," replied Mrs. Fairweather.

"Not an inch would the poor beast stir, for all his master's beating and thumping."

But a neighbor tied some fresh turnips to a stick, and fastened them so that they swung directly before the donkey's nose, and off he set on a brisk trot, in hopes of overtaking them."

"Aunt Hetty, without observing how very closely the comparison applied to her own management of Peggy, said, 'that will do very well for folks that have plenty of turnips to spare.'"

"For the matter of that," answered Mrs. Fairweather, "whips cost something, as well as turnips; and since one makes the donkey stand still, and the other makes him trot, it is easy to decide which is the most economical."

But, neighbor Turnpenny, since you like my pies so well, pray take one home with you."

"I am afraid they will mould before we can eat them up."

Aunt Hetty had come in for a quarrel, and she was astonished to find herself going out with a pie.

"Well, Mrs. Fairweather," said she, "you are a neighbor. I thank you a thousand times."

When she reached her own door, she hesitated for an instant, then turned back, pie in hand, to say,

"neighbor Fairweather, you needn't trouble yourself about sending Pink away."

It's natural you should like the little creature, seeing he belongs to your son."

"I'll try to keep Tab in doors, and perhaps after awhile they will agree better."

"I hope they will," replied the friendly matron; "we will try them awhile longer, and if they persist in quarrelling, I will send the dog into the country."

"Pink, who was sleeping in a chair, stretched himself and gaped."

His kind mistress patted him on the head, "ah, you foolish little beast," said she, "what's the use of plaguing poor Tab?"

"Well, I do say," observed Sally, stilling, "you girl!" rejoined Mrs. Fairweather.

"One frosty morning, I was looking out of the window into my father's barn-yard, where stood many cows, oxen, and horses, waiting to drink."

It was one of those cold snapping mornings, when a slight thing irritates both man and beast.

The cattle all stood very still and meek, till one of the cows attempted to turn round."

In making the attempt, she happened to hit her next neighbor; whereupon, the neighbor kicked, and hit another."

In five minutes, the whole herd were kicking and hooking each other, with all fury."

My mother laughed and said, "See what comes of kicking when you're hit."

Just so I've seen one cross word set in whole family by the ears; some frosty morning."

Afterward, if my brothers or myself were a little irritable, she would say, "take care, children. Remember how the fight in the barn-yard began."

Never give a kick for a hit, and you will save yourself and others a deal of trouble."

That same afternoon, the sunshiny dame stepped into Aunt Hetty's rooms, where she found Peggy sewing, as usual, with the eternal switch on the table beside her.

"I am obliged to go to Harlem, on business," said she; "I feel rather lonely without company, and I always like to have a child with me."

If you will oblige me by letting Peggy go, I will pay her fare in the omnibus."

"She has her spelling lesson to get before night," replied Aunt Hetty.

"I don't approve of young folks going a pleasuring, and neglecting their education."

Concluded to-morrow.

Arrest.—Constable L. W. Andrews arrested a man on Saturday, calling himself Wm. T. Clarke.

This man purchased books of two or three concerns in this city, nine months since, pretending that they were wanted by Mr. Marcus Morton, since which time he has been non est. He is known to have sold copies of Sears' Pictorial Bible in this city, for about half their value; and as he came from New York on Thursday, it is supposed they are the profits of plunderings there, and his arrest may lead to the development of other crimes in that city.—Boston Star.

We clip the above from the Boston Star of yesterday; we understand that some of the same kind of peddlars have been, and are, in this town at present.

They must beware, or they will be dealt with, as the law provides, for several are on the alert for them.

It is said that Gov. McDowell will be elected to the U. S. Senate from Virginia, in the place of Mr. Archer.

TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1846.

DEATH OF THE VENERABLE THEODORE DWIGHT.—This New York paper of Friday announces the death of the venerable THEODORE DWIGHT, at the advanced age of 81 years. He was sick but a few weeks, and the recent death of his wife proved too great a blow for his declining nature to sustain. In his last illness, he was favored with the full vigor of his mind, and enjoyed, in an unusual degree, the consolation of the Christian religion, which had been his guide through a long life. He has always been in public life, and a great portion of his time and talents have been devoted to editorial pursuits; and it is said that he was the oldest Editor in America, at the time of his decease. He was born at Northampton, in 1765. His mother was the daughter of President Edwards, and she was his principal instructor, during the revolution, as his older brother, the late President Timothy Dwight, of Yale College, was absent as Chaplain in the Revolutionary Army.

At the death of his father, in 1778, he entered his uncle's office, as a student at law; and, having finished his course, he settled at Hartford, where he soon rose to the head of his profession. When the Hon. Oliver Ellsworth was appointed Minister to Spain, he selected Mr. Dwight to be his private Secretary; a post, however, which he declined. Early in life, he was associated with Lemuel Hopkins, and Richard Alsop, in a series of political satires, of a political nature; he was an active and prominent member of the Federal party. For many years he was a member of the Connecticut Senate, and in 1809, he was elected to Congress. He took an active part in the debates of that day, and often received the commendations of John Randolph, for his eloquence. His first connection with the press, was the editorship of the Mirror, published at Hartford. When the celebrated Hartford Convention assembled, Mr. Dwight was elected Secretary of that body, which duty he performed with great fidelity. He was almost the last survivor of that body. At the close of the war, in 1815, at the urgent request of many distinguished politicians, in the State of New York, Mr. Dwight established the Albany Daily Advertiser, the first daily paper ever published in that city. In the course of two years, he united with William B. Townsend, Esq., one of the present Editors of the New York Express, and started the New York Daily Advertiser, and continued an associate Editor of the same, until the great fire in that city, in 1836, when he relinquished his interest in the concern, and retired, with his family, to Hartford, where he resided, until the last three years, the latter portion of which, he resided with his son. For nearly thirty years he was a prominent Editor, and scarcely a day passed, that he did not write at least one article for his paper; and such was his facility and precision in writing, that he never read over an article, and when the last word was written, it was ready for the compositor. He was a great student, and a very industrious man; he rarely visited his most intimate friends, and never went to places of amusement. His knowledge of the political history of this country, from the adoption of the Federal Constitution, down to the present time, was probably superior to that of any other man; and he was among the very last of that old school of distinguished men, whose hearts were full of patriotism, and who were an honor to the country.

It was an invariable rule of his, never to omit reading, daily, a portion of the Scriptures, which were always the rule and guide of his life. He was one of the founders of the American Bible Society, and through life remained one of its firmest and most valuable friends. In his last hours, he was sustained by his hope and confidence in a merciful Saviour.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—It has always been the custom, in all the Courts in this country, and such has been the construction put upon the Naturalization Laws of the United States, by all our Courts, as well as legal writers, for foreigners to file their preliminary declaration of intention, as required by law, in the clerk's office, at any time during vacation. About two years since, a decision was made by a U. S. District Judge, in the State of New York, we think, declaring that a wrong construction had been put upon the law, and that it was necessary to file the declaration in open Court; and he refused to permit certain applicants to be sworn in, as citizens of the United States, who had proceeded under the old construction of the law. Other Courts, in different States, were governed by this decision, and consequently thousands of cases were thrown out of Court, and the parties were compelled to commence new proceedings. Great inconvenience was experienced in consequence of this decision, both by loss of time and money.

This question came up in the U. S. Circuit Court, in this town, yesterday afternoon, and Judge Woodbury stated, that he had investigated the matter somewhat, and had conversed with his brethren of the Bench, and they were satisfied that it was sufficient to file the declaration of intention in the clerk's office, during vacation, as formerly; as it could there be seen by the world, and it was not of such a nature, as to require it to be done in open Court. He therefore directed that this course should be pursued. This is an important decision, and will effect some two hundred foreigners in this State, alone, who have filed their declarations in the clerk's office, as they are now properly commenced. In future, therefore, foreigners will file their declarations in the clerk's office, as heretofore; but they must take the oath of allegiance in open Court, as has ever been the custom.

Our paper was issued somewhat later, yesterday morning, than usual, in consequence of the large number of arrivals at the Hotels, which we published in full. Hereafter, we shall make arrangements to collect these at an early hour as possible, and if we are not before the public at the earliest "dawn of day," when we do come, we shall offer matter that is worth reading.

We would call the attention of our "City Fathers," to the old building at the head of Thames street, which looks as though a light wind might blow it over. It ought to be pulled down.

The communications of our talented correspondent, Miss M. E. WENTWORTH, are received; they will appear soon. She will please accept our thanks.

Gen. Vega, the captive Mexican General, passed through Augusta, Georgia, on Saturday week, on his way to Washington.

U. S. Circuit Court.—This Court convened in this town, yesterday morning, at 12 o'clock; Mr. Justice Woodbury presides, assisted by the District Judge, the Hon. JOHN PITMAN. After the Court was organized, the Term was commenced with prayer, by the Rev. Thatcher Thayer. Judge Woodbury's charge to the Grand Jury was able and explicit; and breathed, throughout, a dignified and patriotic spirit. We understand that there are several criminal matters which will come before the Grand Jury, and if presentments are made, the trials will be had during the week; it is said that there are not a very large number of cases, on the civil docket, for trial.

Several of our exchanges have always come directed to the "Daily Times," we will thank those Editors who have called us by this name, to bear in mind that our cognomen is "THE DAILY NEWS," and direct accordingly.

The performance at the Town Hall, last evening, of the "Fallen Saved," was excellent—the best Temperance Drama, that we ever saw performed, and we heard several observe the same. The scene commenced with a young man, who had just entered upon his twenty-first year, who had lived up to that time, a strict teetotaler, but through the persuasion of friends, who had assembled to celebrate his natal day, he was induced to take the first glass; and from that, he went on gradually, until he had become a drunkard,—experienced all the horrors of the delirium tremens, and came near dying; when he was induced to sign the temperance pledge, and once more become a man. Each part was sustained most admirably, and we think the effect of a moral play of this character, must be salutary. We have not time to say more, but would advise all to go and witness it for themselves.

BY TO-DAY'S MAIL.

From the N. Y. Express.

OREGON TREATY SIGNED!

Washington, Sunday, 8 o'clock, P. M.

The Oregon Treaty will be sent to the Senate to-morrow; and if the expectations of that body are fulfilled, it is already signed, and consists of five short sections, and the Senator from whom I have this, hopes that it will be ratified before adjournment.

Mr. Secretary Walker's response to the call of the Senate, on the subject of Finances and the Tariff, will also be sent in to-morrow.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN.

The steamer Great Western, Captain Matthews, arrived at her dock, in New York, yesterday forenoon, about 10 o'clock.

She sailed from Liverpool on the 30th ult., and brings eleven days later news.

The Notice for the termination of the joint occupancy of the Oregon Territory has been given by Mr. Polk, and the Great Western on her return trip, carries back on on the line proposed by the British Government, for the settlement of that dispute.

[From the Liverpool Mail, May 30.]

"The United States have declared war against Mexico, and the first conflict of arms has taken place in which the invaders have been beaten. The Mexicans do not choose to be robbed of their land, without defending it to the last extremity, and the robbers, finding their possession and claim disputed, resort to the formality of open warfare. May God defend the right! If this war does not facilitate the emancipation of upwards of three millions of black slaves, we are much mistaken, and shall be greatly disappointed."

TRUMPET OF THE CORN BILL.—The Peers have made short work of the Corn bill. On Monday week, it was read for the first time in their House, and the second reading, after a debate of three nights, was passed by a majority of forty-seven.

Queen Victoria became the mother of a fifth child on the afternoon of Monday—a great fact in the history of England, which was duly announced to the inhabitants of London, by the firing of guns and other demonstrations of joy. The young stranger is a female; and according to the phraseology of the court bulletins, is like the mother, "doing well."

The Queen entered on her 27th year a few days back.

Col. Horton was declared by the Legislature of Texas, previous to its adjournment, to have been duly elected to the office of lieutenant governor.

The Senate of New Hampshire, on Tuesday afternoon, concurred with the House, in the election of the Hon. JOHN P. HALE to the United States Senate, by a vote of 12 to 8.

It is understood that the Committee on Railroads in the Connecticut Legislature, have reported unanimously in favor of the Railroad by way of Middletown, with the privilege of bridging the Connecticut.

By this route, it is said that the trip from New York to Boston, can be made in five hours.—Doubtful.

The commission sent to treat with the Comanches, have found two or three American prisoners among that tribe.

It was rumored, but not believed, that the Mormons and Indians attacked the California emigrants, near Kansas river, killing ex-governor Boggs, and others.

The proceeds of the Hood Fund in England, for the benefit of the family of the late distinguished poet, now amount to about $6000. It is proposed to erect a monument over his grave at Kensal Green, at an expense of £50.

Judge Marshall, of the Louisville Circuit Court, died on the 3d inst.

MARRIED.

Yesterday morning, by the Rev. Charles T. Brooks, Mr. William G. Peckham, and Mary H., youngest daughter of the Hon. Joseph T. Perry, all of this town.

TUESDAY, JUNE 16, 1846.

DEATH OF THE VENERABLE THEODORE DWIGHT.—The New York papers of Friday announce the death of the venerable Theodore Dwight, at the advanced age of 81 years. He was sick but a few weeks, and the recent death of his wife proved too great a blow for his declining nature to sustain. In his last illness, he was favored with the full vigor of his mind, and enjoyed, in an unusual degree, the consolation of the Christian religion, which had been his guide through a long life. He has always been in public life, and a great portion of his time and talents have been devoted to Editorial pursuits; and it is said that he was the oldest Editor in America, at the time of his decease. He was born at Northampton, in 1765. His mother was the daughter of President Edwards, and she was his principal instructor, during the revolution, as his older brother, the late President Timothy Dwight, of Yale College, was absent as Chaplain in the Revolutionary Army.

At the death of his father, in 1778, he entered his uncle's office, as a student at law; and, having finished his course, he settled at Hartford, where he soon rose to the head of his profession. When the Hon. Oliver Ellsworth was appointed Minister to Spain, he selected Mr. Dwight to be his private Secretary; a post, however, which he declined. Early in life, he was associated with Lemuel Hopkins, and Richard Alsop, in a series of political satires, of a political nature; he was an active and prominent member of the Federal party. For many years he was a member of the Connecticut Senate, and in 1809, he was elected to Congress. He took an active part in the debates of that day, and often received the commendations of John Randolph, for his eloquence. His first connection with the press, was the editorship of the Mirror, published at Hartford. When the celebrated Hartford Convention assembled, Mr. Dwight was elected Secretary of that body, which duty he performed with great fidelity. He was almost the last survivor of that body. At the close of the war, in 1815, at the urgent request of many distinguished politicians, in the State of New York, Mr. Dwight established the Albany Daily Advertiser, the first daily paper ever published in that city. In the course of two years, he united with William B. Townsend, Esq., one of the present Editors of the New York Express, and started the New York Daily Advertiser, and continued an associate Editor of the same, until the great fire in that city, in 1836, when he relinquished his interest in the concern, and retired, with his family, to Hartford, where he resided, until the last three years, the latter portion of which, he resided with his son. For nearly thirty years he was a prominent Editor, and scarcely a day passed, that he did not write at least one article for his paper; and such was his facility and precision in writing, that he never read over an article, and when the last word was written, it was ready for the compositor. He was a great student, and a very industrious man; he rarely visited his most intimate friends, and never went to places of amusement. His knowledge of the political history of this country, from the adoption of the Federal Constitution, down to the present time, was probably superior to that of any other man; and he was among the very last of that old school of distinguished men, whose hearts were full of patriotism, and who were an honor to the country.

It was an invariable rule of his, never to omit reading, daily, a portion of the Scriptures, which were always the rule and guide of his life. He was one of the founders of the American Bible Society, and through life remained one of its firmest and most valuable friends. In his last hours, he was sustained by his hope and confidence in a merciful Saviour.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—It has always been the custom, in all the Courts in this country, and such has been the construction put upon the Naturalization Laws of the United States, by all our Courts, as well as legal writers, for foreigners to file their preliminary declaration of intention, as required by law, in the clerk's office, at any time during vacation. About two years since, a decision was made by a U. S. District Judge, in the State of New York, we think, declaring that a wrong construction had been put upon the law, and that it was necessary to file the declaration in open Court; and he refused to permit certain applicants to be sworn in, as citizens of the United States, who had proceeded under the old construction of the law. Other Courts, in different States, were governed by this decision, and consequently thousands of cases were thrown out of Court, and the parties were compelled to commence new proceedings. Great inconvenience was experienced in consequence of this decision, both by loss of time and money.

This question came up in the U. S. Circuit Court, in this town, yesterday afternoon; and Judge Woodbury stated, that he had investigated the matter somewhat, and had conversed with his brethren of the Bench, and they were satisfied that it was sufficient to file the declaration of intention in the clerk's office, during vacation, as formerly; as it could there be seen by the world, and it was not of such a nature, as to require it to be done in open Court. He therefore directed that this course should be pursued. This is an important decision, and will effect some two hundred foreigners in this State, alone, who have filed their declarations in the clerk's office;—as they are now properly commenced. In future, therefore, foreigners will file their declarations in the clerk's office, as heretofore; but they must take the oath of allegiance in open Court, as has ever been the custom.

Our paper was issued somewhat later, yesterday morning, than usual, in consequence of the large number of arrivals at the Hotels, which we published in full. Hereafter, we shall make arrangements to collect these at an early hour as possible, and if we are not before the public at the earliest "dawn of day,"—when we do come, we shall offer matter that is worth reading.

We would call the attention of our "City Fathers," to the old building at the head of Thames street, which looks as though a light wind might blow it over. It ought to be pulled down.

The communications of our talented correspondent, Miss M. E. WENTWORTH, are received; they will appear soon. She will please accept our thanks.

Gen. Vega, the captive Mexican General, passed through Augusta, Georgia, on Saturday week, on his way to Washington.

U. S. Circuit Court.—This Court convened in this town, yesterday morning, at 12 o'clock; Mr. Justice Woodbury presides, assisted by the District Judge, the Hon. JOHN PITMAN. After the Court was organized, the Term was commenced with prayer, by the Rev. Thatcher Thayer. Judge Woodbury's charge to the Grand Jury was able and explicit; and breathed, throughout, a dignified and patriotic spirit. We understand that there are several criminal matters which will come before the Grand Jury, and if presentments are made, the trials will be had during the week; it is said that there are not a very large number of cases, on the civil docket, for trial.

Several of our exchanges have always come directed to the "Daily Times;" we will thank those Editors who have called us by this name, to bear in mind that our cognomen is "THE DAILY NEWS," and direct accordingly.

The performance at the Town Hall, last evening, of the "Fallen Saved," was excellent;—the best Temperance Drama, that we ever saw performed, and we heard several observe the same. The scene commenced with a young man, who had just entered upon his twenty-first year, who had lived up to that time, a strict teetotaler, but through the persuasion of friends, who had assembled to celebrate his natal day, he was induced to take the first glass; and from that, he went on gradually, until he had become a drunkard,—experienced all the horrors of the delirium tremens, and came near dying; when he was induced to sign the temperance pledge, and once more become a man. Each part was sustained most admirably, and we think the effect of a moral play of this character, must be salutary. We have not time to say more, but would advise all to go and witness it for themselves.

BY TO-DAY'S MAIL.

From the N. Y. Express.

OREGON TREATY SIGNED!

Washington, Sunday, 8 o'clock, P. M.

The Oregon Treaty will be sent to the Senate to-morrow; and if the expectations of that body are fulfilled, it is already signed, and consists of five short sections, and the Senator from whom I have this, hopes that it will be ratified before adjournment.

Mr. Secretary Walker's response to the call of the Senate, on the subject of Finances and the Tariff, will also be sent in to-morrow.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN.

The steamer Great Western, Captain Matthews, arrived at her dock, in New York, yesterday forenoon, about 10 o'clock.

She sailed from Liverpool on the 30th ult., and brings eleven days later news.

The Notice for the termination of the joint occupancy of the Oregon Territory has been given by Mr. Polk, and the Great Western on her return trip, carries back on on the line proposed by the British Government, for the settlement of that dispute.

[From the Liverpool Mail, May 30.]

"The United States have declared war against Mexico, and the first conflict of arms has taken place in which the invaders have been beaten. The Mexicans do not choose to be robbed of their land, without defending it to the last extremity, and the robbers, finding their possession and claim disputed, resort to the formality of open warfare. May God defend the right! If this war does not facilitate the emancipation of upwards of three millions of black slaves, we are much mistaken! and shall be greatly disappointed."

TRIUMPH OF THE CORN BILL.—The Peers have made short work of the Corn bill. On Monday week, it was read for the first time in their House, and the second reading, after a debate of three nights, was passed by a majority of forty seven.

Queen Victoria became the mother of a fifth child on the afternoon of Monday—a great fact in the history of England, which was duly announced to the inhabitants of London, by the firing of guns and other demonstrations of joy. The young stranger is a female; and according to the phraseology of the court bulletins, is, like the mother, "doing well."

The Queen entered on her 27th year a few days back.

Col. Horton was declared by the Legislature of Texas, previous to its adjournment, to have been duly elected to the office of lieutenant governor.

The Senate of New Hampshire, on Tuesday afternoon, concurred with the House, in the election of the Hon. JOHN P. HALE to the United States Senate, by a vote of 12 to 8.

It is understood that the Committee on Railroads in the Connecticut Legislature, have reported unanimously in favor of the Railroad by way of Middletown, with the privilege of bridging the Connecticut.

By this route, it is said that the trip from New York to Boston, can be made in five hours—Doubtful.

The commission sent to treat with the Caymanes, have found two or three American prisoners among that tribe.

It was rumored, but not believed, that the Mormons and Indians attacked the California emigrants, near Kansas river, killing ex-governor Bogg, and others.

The proceeds of the Hood Fund in England, for the benefit of the family of the late distinguished poet, now amount to about $6000. It is proposed to erect a monument over his grave at Kensal Green, at an expense of £50.

Judge Marshall, of the Louisville Circuit Court, died on the 3d inst.

MARRIED.

Yesterday morning, by the Rev. Charles T. Brooks, Mr. William G. Peckham, and Mary H. youngest daughter of the Hon. Joseph T. Perry, all of this town.

RE-OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES CLOTHING STORE.

A still greater revolution in the sale of READY MADE CLOTHING. New Store and new Goods, at the old stand, where the public have been favored with so many good bargains. 91 Thames street, one door north of Messrs. W. B. & E. J. SWAN'S.

THE PROPRIETOR of this Establishment has the pleasure of informing the people of Newport and its vicinity, that he has leased the new and commodious store, 91 Thames street, for the purpose of carrying on the Ready Made Clothing Business, where the public may be assured that they will always find on hand the largest assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the place, as well as the lowest prices. If I can but induce the people to call upon me, I will give them the most positive proof of the truth of this assertion, as I am determined to secure for the United States Clothing Store a tremendous run of custom, and, aware as I am, that competition is so severe, that the only mode of success is to offer my Goods at a small advance on Cost. Will the people call upon me? I will give them the most positive and pleasing evidence of what I say; still more, I will not urge them with undue persuasion to purchase what they do not want. The custom of forcing goods upon people has become so prevalent that they are nearly perplexed to know where they can go and be allowed the use of their own judgment in selection of Goods. Once more I beseech of you to call and examine my stock of Clothing and Furnishing Goods, before purchasing elsewhere, which consists of a large and good assortment of FROCK and DRESS COATS, of a variety of styles and colors; also, a large quantity of TWEED FROCK and SACK COATS; 2 or 3 dozen of the Gold Mixed TWEED, a most beautiful article for summer, Kentucky jeans, and a great variety of other kinds, too numerous to mention.

Silk and Worsted, Black Silk Velvets, Dark Valencia, black Lustre and Bombazine, do. As well as the above articles, I have a great variety of Coats, Pants, Vests, and Jackets, made of various kinds of goods, which go to make up a full assortment, but which it is needless to specify.

Furnishing Goods.
I challenge the place to show such an assortment. I have Shirts of the latest French styles and patterns, with yoke necks, from $1.25 to $2.50; also, common Shirts, with linen bosoms and collars, from 67c to $1.50. Linen Bosoms, plain, pleated, and Ruffled, from 25c to $1.00. Linen Collars of all styles and qualities, from 8c to 25c. Cotton Flannel Shirts and Drawers, Lamb's wool, do; Portsmouth, do; Red Twilled Under-shirts and Drawers; Hickory Shirts and Overalls.

Stocks and Gravats.
Fancy Silk and Satin Tie Stocks; Bombazine and Black, do. do; Satin ends, do; Bow, do; Plain, do; Bombazine Bow and Satin pleated Stocks; Rich figured Silk and Satin Gravats and Hdkfs.; Italian Silk Hdkfs.; Black French, do; Linen, Muslin, Madras, and Gingham, do.

HATS and CAPS; the assortment is very large—call and examine for yourselves.

Suspender of every description, from 8c to $1.25. Silk, Gingham and Cotton Umbrellas; Hickory, Palm Wood, and Rattan Canes.

Seamen's Clothing; Oil Suits; Reeking Jackets; Glazed Hats; Overalls &c. &c.

Trunks, Valises, and Carpet Bags; also Ladies' Hat Cases; Fancy Articles, and Perfumeries.
Also—R. B. EDE'S celebrated Hedyosmia or concentrated, Prussian Essence, combining all the fragrant properties of the well known odoriferous compound, acknowledged by the Royal Family and Nobility, the most elegant perfume for the assembly or boudoir, imparting to the handkerchief a very agreeable, refreshing and lasting odor.

Boys' Clothing.
The United States Clothing Store stands unrivalled in the sale of Boys' Clothing; and I have now on hand a large assortment of blue and black Broadcloth Suits, that will fit boys from 4 years old to ten. Also, a large assortment of Fancy suits of the best French Cassimere. Don't forget the number, 91 Thames street, sign of the large Window.

RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP, may truly be said to be one of the most valuable, as well as the most scientific and useful invention for the health, comfort, and convenience of the human family, that mankind has ever been blessed with. As an alleviator and preventor of pain, or irritation occasioned by the bites or stings of Musquitoes, or other poisonous insects, this invaluable Soap is indeed a treasure. By applying it to the parts affected, it immediately abstracts the poison, allays the irritation, and protects the sufferer from all further annoyance from these troublesome insects.
